BRITON KILLED ON ROOF OF HOME DURING ENGAGEMENT BETWEEN GUERILLAS, JAPANESE IN THE HUNGJAO AREA

Hail Of Machine-Gun Bullets Prevents Father Aiding Son

JAPANESE SUFFER CASUALTIES

Shanghai, August 21.
A Briton, Richard Norman Keys, twenty-two year old son of Major P. H. Keys, local business man, was killed at 1.30 o'clock this morning by a machine-gun bullet which struck him in the stomach during a 45-minute engagement between Chinese guerillas and Japanese in the Hungjao area, three miles from the International Settlement.

Being a tuberculosis patient, Mr. Richard Keys was sleeping on the roof of his home which is situated only 45 yards from the Japanese Headquarters which was one of the guerillas' targets.

One of the most poignant features of the case was that the father, Major Keys, was unable to go to his son's bedside immediately owing to the hail of bullets on the roof and was forced to helplessly watch his son's agony.

The boy was without medical attention for more than an hour due to the doctor's inability to arrive on the scene as the road was alive with bullets while the engagement lasted.

It is definitely confirmed that the fatal bullet came from the guerillas of which three bands, which took up various posts, concentrated fire on several Japanese targets, one of which was the Japanese headquarters.

SCRAMBLED INDOORS

The fighting afforded foreigners residing in Hungjao a bad three quarters of an hour. Owing to the closeness of the night, many were sleeping on the roofs and verandahs and suffered a frightening awakening by the barking of machine-guns, and hastily scrambled indoors.

The home of another prominent Briton, Mr. H. E. Arnold, Director of Messrs. Arnold and Co. Ltd., was struck by three machine-gun bullets and the windows were smashed.

The Japanese are known to have suffered some casualties but are maintaining the closest secrecy as to the number.—(Reuter).

CAPT. T. KENDRICK LEAVES VIENNA

London, August 21.
The Passport Control Officer at the British Consulate in Vienna, Captain Thomas Kendrick, who as previously reported has been expelled from the German Reich for alleged espionage, left Vienna accompanied by his wife on Saturday evening according to press reports here.

The Sunday papers refrain from any comment on the case.—(Transocean).

KIDNAPPED CHILDREN RELEASED

Jerusalem, Aug. 21.
Three children, members of an Inspector's family, who were kidnapped at Athlit, have been released. The fate of the parents is unknown.—(Reuter).

Test Match War Of Attrition

HEART-BREAKING WICKET AT OVAL

London, August 21.
Though generally agreeing that it is long since an international side had less impressive opening bowlers than M. G. Walte and Stanley McCabe commentators in the Sunday papers concede that there was little bad bowling all day long at the Oval.

The bowlers, the commentators concede, were the victims of superior batsmanship and a heart-breaking wicket which D. R. Jardine, former England Test skipper, and C. G. Macartney, former Australian Test player, both decried as too good and hardly conducive in the best interests of the game.

England is held to be in an enviable position, especially should the match last over four days.

W. A. Oldfield, the veteran Australian Test wicketkeeper, says that by taking the field with only three bowlers, both England and Australia are seemed determined on a war of attrition.—(Reuter).

Protest Over Bombing Of A Church

Hankow, Aug. 21.
It is learned that the French Embassy has lodged a strong protest with the Japanese authorities against the bombing of the French Catholic Church at Takoum, 80 kilometres southeast of Peking, by Japanese aircraft on Aug. 17.

It is said that three bombs were dropped by the Japanese planes. Though the church itself escaped unscathed, two houses and a school building, all belonging to the church, were damaged.

At the time of the bombing only two Catholic fathers were in the church. None of them or any other person was hurt.—(Central News).

GAP BETWEEN SUDETEN AND CZECH CAMPS REMAINS

Decision Of Prague Government Welcomed As Friendly Gesture

BILL SUBMITTED BY SLOVAK AUTONOMISTS

Prague, August 21.
A week's intensive efforts has not narrowed the gap between the Sudeten and Czech camps. The Government's decision to appoint Sudetens to superior administrative posts is welcomed by the Sudetens as a friendly gesture but not as a substantial contribution towards their demands. No date has yet been fixed for the resumption of negotiations. The Sudetens are simply standing on the eight points while the Government requires time to consider the position.

The Slovak autonomists has submitted a Bill which will not facilitate the Government's task. Normally such a Bill would not be taken seriously but it is unwelcome to the Government at a time when unity is the paramount need. It demands that the Slovak Diet deal with all questions directly affecting the Slovakia, complete freedom of language, Slovak army with Slovak officers stationed in Slovak territory.

Since Herr Hlinka's death the Slovak Party is governed by a committee of five whose principal members are Monsignor Tisso and Deputy Sidor.—(Reuter).

Destroyer Leaves For Unknown Destination

London, August 21.
The Spanish Republican destroyer Jose Luis Diaz which has been over twelve months in the port of Le Havre undergoing repairs, left that port on Saturday evening "for an unknown destination," according to an official statement, says a Transocean message from Paris.

The papers recall, in this connection, a similar mysterious departure from Chironde estuary some months ago of two Spanish Republican submarines C2 and C4 which likewise left for an unknown destination and whose subsequent fate is still shrouded in mystery.

It is presumed that the Jose Luis Diaz will endeavour to reach a Spanish Republican port but doubts are entertained of the possibility of its avoiding capture en route by Nationalist warships which are on the look out for the vessel.

In reply to press criticism, official French quarters point out that there are no means of preventing the destroyer from leaving port since neither of the warring parties in Spain enjoy belligerent rights.

TO STUDY ON THE SPOT

Paris, Aug. 21.
The Comité Mondial des Femmes announces that a delegation of women will arrive in China in a few days to study on the spot how it is best to aid Chinese women and children victims of the war with Japan.—(Reuter).

Remarkable Chinese Marksmanship

Tunk, Anhwei, Aug. 21.
The Chinese field commander on the Yangtze River front has recommended to the High Chinese Command for commendation and promotion for An Teh-cheng, an artilleryman, in recognition of his remarkable marksmanship and courage.

An damaged heavily two Japanese warships and slightly several others in the Yangtze on Friday. He fired altogether 38 shells at a fleet of ten enemy vessels moving in the river escorted by a squadron of Japanese planes. Twenty-three of the missiles hit one vessel or the other. One of them was hit by as many as 14 shells.

It is reported that on the same day Chinese batteries at another undisclosed point on the Yangtze River damaged three other Japanese warships.—(Central News).

MUSICAL REVIEW OF THE WEEK

BY ALLEGRO MODERATO

The lunch programme from ZBW on Sunday last was delightful. It was a pity that we were out on the beach the Sunday previous, or else we would have heard the entire opera "La Boheme." As it was, the third and fourth acts were satisfying enough. The recording, with Rosetta Pampini as Mimì and Luigi Marini as Rodolfo, supported by equally famous artists and the entire Chorus and Orchestra of La Scala di Milano, is exceedingly fine.

The same evening we were treated to a recital by Ruth Litvin on the pianoforte. Of her three pieces the second and last, namely, the Prelude Op. 28, No. 15 in D Flat Major and the Waltz Op. No. 2, in B Minor, both by Chopin, pleased us most. May we suggest that she include Preludes Op. 28 Nos. 17 and 24 by Chopin, in her next recital.

The Don Cossack Russian Choir will be performing at the Queen's Theatre from September. It is a long time since we have had a visit by choir of such reputation that music lovers, especially those who belong to choral societies, should give all the support possible.

The Chinese Choral Society is presenting a concert of typical Chinese folk music at the Great Hall of the University on Saturday. This should be interesting.

Victor Sanders gave a very pleasing recital last Thursday with the ZBW Orchestra.

On Wednesday, the trio composed of Prue Lewis, Ettore Pellegatti and E. O'Neill Shaw performed the Gretschmanoff Trio. The cello was a trifle stronger than usual.

Whoever 'Toby Gray' is he can certainly play an accordion. However, we think that his programme with Pampling Villa, who needs no introduction to radio fans, could be relieved with a violin. A piano and an accordion somehow do not combine well. Not so very long ago, we used to have combinations of voice, piano and violin, or saxophone for these light programmes, or else there were very enjoyable 'non-stop' variety with several artists. We used to look forward to these programmes.

We notice in a contemporary that there is some talk about the Hong Kong Singers and the Philharmonic Society. Although they are distinct societies, there was a time when they had one conductor, and the orchestra was practically the same. There were singers who were members of both societies. Is it not a good idea to leave well alone?

A great deal of amusement may be obtained by trying to play some musical instrument by oneself. One need not be a Chopin or Paganini to be able to enjoy the production of musical sounds from some simple instrument. Take for example, the comb and tissue paper. When we were small we used to have no end of fun with this very primitive instrument. Even Mozart and Schubert played it. From this was evolved the kazoo, which has been featured even by Tschalkowsky in his Nutcracker Suite.

If you are one of those who cannot carry a tune then try rhythm... there is a lot of fun to be had by accompanying a band record or the radio with drum and traps. Kitchen utensils and the backs and arms and chairs yield remarkable sound values as percussion instruments. Set up drinking glasses, grade them with water and they may be played. Then there is the ukulele, which can be mastered in a very short time.

The harmonica has brought more satisfaction to boys who know absolutely no music at all than many another instrument. The foremost exponent of this instrument, Borrah Minnevitich, a Boston newsboy, attracted trade with his harmonica. Now he has a harmonica orchestra composed of boys who know nothing about music. He and his band now perform music from Bach to jazz, and have played at the Metropolitan in New York and Queen's Hall in London.

LORD RUNCIMAN LEAVES PRAGUE FOR OBERPLAN

KUNDT TO MAKE KNOWN PLANS?

Prague, August 21.
Lord Runciman left Prague on Saturday afternoon for Oberplan, in the southern part of the Bohemian Forest, where he is spending the week-end at one of the hunting lodges of Prince Adolf Schwarzenberg.
It is announced in Sudeten circles that Deputy Kundt, chairman of the Sudeten-German Party, has left for Stockholm to attend the congress of the National minorities.
Considerable importance is attached in Sudeten quarters to this congress and from a statement which appeared in the Paity publication on Saturday, there is reason to believe that Deputy Kundt intends to make an important announcement to the delegates attending the congress.—Transocean

RENEWED TENSION AT WOOSUNG

Hankow, August 20.
Renewed tension prevails at Woosung at the mouth of the Yangtze River where large Chinese guerrilla bands have arrived, according to a Shanghai message.
After the recapture of Chuen-sha and Nanwei, the guerrillas at Pootung are said to be pushing toward Kaokiaochoen, another important town there.
Yesterday a Japanese plane re-cognitred Woosung and Pootung to detect the movements of the guerrillas.—(Central News).

It is reported from Barcelona that the Catalan Government called a Cabinet meeting with the object of dealing with the measures adopted by the Negrin Government to bring Catalonia under a more centralized control.

According to one account, Com-off relations with Negrin. For coming out in the open to support two dismissed ministers, Irujo and Ayubade, the organ of the Catalan Separatists, Humanitat, was severely dealt with by the censor in its Saturday issue.—(Trans-

HITLER AT MANOEUVRES

Met By High Officers

Paris, August 20.
Chancellor Hitler arrived at the Gross-Born military camp near Stettin yesterday to spend two days watching the manoeuvres of the second army corps. He was greeted upon his arrival by General von Braunhilt, the Commander in Chief of the army, General von Rundstedt, the Commander in Chief of the army group one, General von Blaskowitz, Chief in command of the second army corps and Herr Schwede-Coburg, the regional Party leader for Pomerania who is attending the exercises as the guest of the army.

The Fuehrer was accompanied by the Reichsleiter Bormann as well as his personal adjutants, Brigadiers Wiedemann and Bormann, and his military adjutants Major Schmundt and Captain Engel.

PARIS EAGERLY AWAITS PREMIER'S STATEMENT

Plans To Safeguard Franc

Paris, August 20.
Political and financial circles here are awaiting, with feverish tension the declaration by Premier Daladier, which is due at 8 p.m. on Sunday, when he will speak of the measures planned by the Government to safeguard the franc and to strengthen the National Defences.

At the present moment Paris is inundated with rumours of all kinds, especially in connection with the recent speeches of Mr. Corbell Hull and President Roosevelt.

These two speeches have had the effect in Paris political quarters, to revive hopes which had, to all intents and purposes, been abandoned years ago, and which are now finding public expression despite the fact that on Friday evening the "Temps" took it upon itself to warn certain circles of the danger of imagining that the time was now ripe for a move in the direction of an entente between France, Britain and the United States.

It would be wrong to suppose, adds the paper, that the American people are now prepared to lend support to a policy of active intervention.

Notwithstanding this attitude of reserve adopted by official French circles, political and financial quarters, particularly those interested in the problems of currency stabilisation, are seeing certain possibilities of giving a new impetus to a Franco-Anglo-American co-operation. The currency policy of these three countries is at present governed by a Tripartite Currency Agreement, to which, incidentally, other countries have in the meantime adhered.

NEW GOLD CONTENT

The "Liberte" on Friday evening was responsible for the rumour that these three powers were planning, for the near future, a definite currency stabilisation by fixing a new gold content for the three currencies. The stabilisation in this case would be carried out more or less on the present dollar basis.
The two other currencies would then be adjusted to this rate, and

PROBING MUNITIONS RUMOURS

London, August 20.
The British Charge d'Affaires in Rome, Sir Noel Charles, was instructed by the British Government on Thursday to remind the Italian Foreign Minister, Count
Galeazzo Ciano, of the conference on August 7, in which the attention of the Italian Government was called to the rumours of renewed Italian munition transports to General Franco.

During Thursday's conference Count Ciano was asked whether he is in the position to comment officially upon these rumours.

The British Charge d'Affaires instructed him that the British

The Repudiation Of A Puppet Father

By PERCY CHEN

YOUTH IN CHINA, no matter whether it is from the North or the South, the East or the West, knows only one loyalty—the Chinese Republic. That the daughter of China's No. 1 Traitor should flee from the control of her father, and renounce him publicly, is not so much a victory for Nationalism in China as it is a manifestation of the Youth National Front which binds all young men and women into an indissoluble whole and the justification for which can only be National Existence and Victory.

Miss Wang Tsuen-kung is the fourth daughter of Wang Ke-min, the puppet head of the Reformed Peiping Government. Her life has been passed in a Republican China, whereas her father's was mostly spent in the yamen of the Manchu bureaucrats. And the mark of a Manchu bureaucrat is that he will serve any master for the rice bowl. Wang Ke-min has remained true to type and serves the Japanese invaders and would-be conquerors of his fatherland.

IN THE CRISES through which Nationalist China has passed, there have arisen incidents which threatened the old customs and traditions of our people. Filial duties have been those which come under a heavy strain when democratic equality, and patriotism govern the ethics of a society. And China is taking the place before family, and before Father and Mother, in the minds and hearts of Young China.

And the reverse. What is a Nationalist family? A Chinese lady of the old school commenting upon the Western mothers complained that "and the Mothers actually sent their sons to fight." According to her—they are fools, let other women's sons die. My sons will live!

On a tour of Kwangtung not long ago I met a family, a Nationalist family. The man and his wife were of middle age. I asked them of their sons. "The first son joined the Chinese Air Force and he was killed." And the second? "The second son also is in the Chinese Air Force." Two sons have been given to the Country.

VIGOUR AND JOY

HOW DOES the Youth of China think of the Motherland?

"Five Thousand Years Young!" A book of this name was recently published in England. It was a collection of drawings and pictures by young artists. The compositions radiated vigour, joy, hope and confidence. And the slogan of "Building a New China" is not just a hackneyed phrase. It is the heartfelt wish of China's Youth.

China's Youth has to fight and struggle to attain its ends. Often the struggle is within its own family. See the stet that was cast on Wang Tsuen-tung, the burthen from which she had to free herself before being able to come back to take her part in the struggle for our National Freedom.

Wang Tsuen-tung can say with conviction "Beware of the remnants of the Manchu bureaucracy, enemies of the Chinese People. In the open they are Wang Ke-min, the Puppet of Peiping; they are the supporters of the Japanese, they are the Yin Yu-kens.

"Hidden under guises they are the spies of the Japanese; the corrupt officials, the 'squeeze mongers' and the 'peace mongers'. Some are old and some are young. But their eyes are shifty because their minds and their hands are not clean."

DOUBLE DUTY

WANG TSUEN-TUNG has a double duty to her country. She has to do her share, the equal of that of each and every patriot. But she has the task of causing her father to repent for having betrayed his people.

For Wang Tsuen-tung, as for the rest of us, it is the will to victory that has become the driving force dominating the mind of China's Youth. Out of this emerges the concept of Life. It is the determination to sacrifice all including life for the achievement of victory over the Japanese aggressors.

Life for China's Youth under the yoke of Japan would be worse than death. So young men and women

THE COLONY'S FINANCES

Healthy State Of Revenue

The Colony's revenue for June this year was $17,847, less than in the corresponding month last year, but it is stated that Hong Kong is on its way towards a record surplus.

Total revenue for June was $2,991,186, bringing the total since January 1 to $18,027,842, which with six months of the year still to come, is within $12,237,073 of the estimated total of $30,254,920.

The estimate will be exceeded by at least $4,000,000, if the present income is maintained.

Revenue for the first half of the year exceeded expenditure by $1,272,372, bringing the Colony's surplus balance of assets over liabilities to $15,774,650, which is a new record.

EXPENDITURE

Expenditure during June was $2,551,509, making the total for the first six months of 1938 $16,755,470, almost two millions more than in the corresponding period last year. Principal increases in expenditure this year have been for the Harbour Office, Medical Department, Kowloon Canton Railway, Military Contributions and Pensions for civil servants.

Principal increases in revenue during June were in the Post Office, which will almost certainly have a record surplus for the year, the Kowloon Canton Railway and land-sales.

RAILWAY REVENUE

Revenue from the Kowloon-Canton Railway for June was $169,512, exactly double the revenue for the corresponding month last year. The railway revenue for the first six months of the year totals $1,013,922, which is four lakhs in excess of the revenue for the corresponding period in 1937 and exceeds the estimated revenue for the whole of 1938.

Decline in Hong Kong revenue during June was caused by a slump in miscellaneous receipts, which fell to $120,628, compared with $557,018 last June.

Land sales still continued buoyant, the total for June being $115,759, compared with $221 in the same month last year.

Land sales are one of the brightest features of the Colony's Revenue. In 1937 the total was $145,720, which, in the first six months of 1938, has already been exceeded by $285,259.

GROUNDS CLOSED

In accordance with Regulations 8 and 5 of the Regulations set out in Second Schedule of the Pleasure Grounds and Bathing Places Regulation Ordinance, No. 29 of 1936, it is hereby notified for general information that His Excellency the Governor has found it expedient to close temporarily from September 1, 1938, and until further notice, areas "O" and "P" at King's Park Recreation Ground allotted to the Hong Kong Chinese Y.M.C.A. and the Director of Education respectively.

Bottle Thrown Into House Of Japanese Vice-Consul

In connection with the incident which occurred at the Japanese Vice-Consul's residence on Friday afternoon when an empty bottle was thrown through a window of his house in Conduit Road, the following statement was issued by the Hon. M. T. H. King, Commissioner of Police on Saturday:

At about 12.30 on Friday afternoon, an empty mineral water bottle was thrown through an open window of the Japanese Vice-Consul's residence at N. 5 Conduit Road first floor.

The bottle landed in the floor of the room without injuring anybody. At the time of the incident, the Vice-Consul was out but his nine-year-old son was in the room. Police investigations indicate the bottle was thrown by a student from an adjacent school, who packed up and left shortly after the incident.

The thrower of the bottle has not been traced yet.

FIGHTING BREAKS OUT AGAIN ON POYANG LAKE

Nanchang, August 21.
After a lull, fighting has broken out again in the Poyang Lake area.

Taking advantage of the rise in the lake caused by heavy down-pours the day before, a number of Japanese warships and steam launches steamed to Matouwan, north of Singze early yesterday morning, and heavily shelled the Chinese positions ashore.

Chinese batteries on both the east and west shores replied with brisk fire. Later, the Japanese vessels moved up to Tuchang on the east shore. Opening a fierce barrage they tried to protect the landing of two batches of Japanese troops. Chinese resisted with heavy fire.

Failing to break through the Chinese line, the Japanese, at Tashubia on the north bank of Chifu Lake are reported to be withdrawing. (Central News).

THE RED BOGEY AGAIN

HONG KONG, AUGUST, 21st 1938.

WE HEARD a good deal about the Red bogey after the Great War but nothing compared with the way Japan today puts it over as a regular "Swan Song."

The object is to secure foreign sympathy for and approval of Japan's aggressive policy.

It crops up periodically all over the world, and recently a member of the Japanese Embassy at Washington, stated that the Chinese people are the "Victims of a Misgovernment" which he termed communist.

Coming from a diplomat who has spent part of his official career in China, such a statement is likely to be accepted as accurate by those who are unacquainted with the facts. Mr. Suma knows very well that the Chinese government was for years engaged in extensive military operations for the suppression of Communist activity in China.

That he did not mention the fact is significant, and easily understood: had he done so, his interview would surely have asked how China could be anti-Communist and pro-Communist at one and the same time?

Mr. Suma also knows very well that to describe Japan's attitude toward China as "one of friendliness" is one of those terminological inaccuracies which plain folk call a downright lie.

HAD JAPAN consistently shown a friendly attitude toward her neighbour, there would have been no cause for the slight anti-Japanese feeling in China. It is a well known fact that, long before the present hostilities, many influential and far-sighted Japanese, vigorously protested at the provocative and aggressive policy followed by Japan, and warned the militarists that their actions in China were leading straight to disaster.

All these things are common knowledge to those who have closely followed the course of Sino-Japanese relations, especially during the last 20 years, but to those who do not know the facts, these smoothly-phrased sentences seem to dispose of the situation quite satisfactorily—but not for Chinese, the victims of gross misrepresentation.

upon non-military objectives, such as the attacks on Canton, our next door neighbour. We think of it all and our heart is full of sympathy for the Chinese.

At the same time the past year has shown us, in no uncertain manner, the true China. The old China, so often referred to in the past as the sleeping lion, is asleep no longer. In the place of the sleeping lion has emerged an infuriated dragon, ready to fight to the last to drive out the Japanese who, without any excuse whatever, decided to "beat China to her knees."

PARTIES and cliques, who in the past had only their own interests at heart, have now buried the hatchet and are working with but one end in view.

The country's administration, for so long split up amongst disputing leaders, has now become unified and every Chinese has played his or her part in bringing about such a laudable change. It would only be fair to give a special word of praise to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, who has left no stone unturned to weld the country into one, and who is actively directing the policy of China during this, the most trying period in the country's history.

Nevertheless, whether it was a period of sadness or glory, the year is gone and China's citizens must now look to the future, but before doing so they should take stock of the situation. Taking internal affairs first, China is in the happy position of having still at her disposal millions of armed troops, but what is more important still, there is a unified government and a unified army under a unified command.

Insofar as the international situation is concerned the outlook is also decidedly encouraging for China. Not only has her war of resistance gained the support of the toiling masses of the various countries but also the sympathy of all those who love peace and freedom.

ON THE OTHER hand, the situation in Japan is giving considerable alarm to those responsible for the government of that unhappy country. There is a shortage of men and money and discontent is spreading throughout the length and breadth of the land. Added to this Japan is rapidly receding to a state of utter isolation in the family of nations.

All this, therefore, points to the advantage of China but it must not be forgotten, even with the outlook so promising, that China still has a great task before her. That China will win the war there is not the slightest doubt, but how long it will take for China to completely drive out the invading Nipponese remains to be seen.

In the meantime China should make use of all ways and means to consolidate and extend the anti-Japanese national front—that is the mainspring of the progress in China's military strength, political administration and economic enterprises.

Thus prepared, China cannot lose the war. It is true that she has suffered a few setbacks—some of them rather serious ones too, but in time all lost territory will be retaken, and even if Japan does

What Our Readers Say

(To the Editor of the Hong Kong Daily Press)

Sir,—Your article in this morning's paper of a "Clipper Trip to Manila" is comprehensive, entertaining and quite correct.

I would like to congratulate A. W. Hyer on the story, one of the best I have read in your paper for some time.

The Perfect Motor Car

CLUTCHLESS AND GEARLESS

London, August 21. The clutchless and gearless motor car, which engineers have dreamed of for a quarter of a century, is claimed to be an accomplished fact.

At the meeting of the British Association at Cambridge tomorrow, scientists of the engineering section will hear Professor P. C. Lea of Sheffield describe a new form of power transmission which is being demonstrated in Cambridge during the week-end.

One result of the discovery is stated to be the speeding up of transport and cheaper, more economical and more lasting motor cars and commercial vehicles. (Reuters).

KUOMINTANG YOUTH CORPS INAUGURATED

Hankow, August 21. After months of preparations, the San-Min-Chu-Yi (Three People's Principles) Youth Corps has now been formally inaugurated.

Organisation of the Corps was decided upon at the Extraordinary Kuomintang Congress recently. Its purpose is to educate the youths in the Three People's Principles of the late Kuomintang leader Dr. Sun Yat-sen and make them do their part for the country.

Five thousand youths have so far joined the Corps. They were registered and admitted after strict examinations of their qualifications.

General Chen Cheng, Chairman of the Hupei Provincial Government, has been appointed Secretary-General of the Corps, and thirty-one prominent Kuomintang leaders have been made executives. (Central News).

happen to possess more up-to-date weapons of war, even though Japan may be getting all the help she needs from certain powers, the spirit of the Chinese cannot be made to waver let alone be crushed, as the mighty men of Japan have so often proclaimed.

CLEANING UP WANCHAI

Shortly before 9 p.m. on Saturday residents in the Lockhart Road district, Wanchai, were provided with some excitement when Detective-Inspector W. N. Darkin, assisted by Detective-Sergeant Bentley, attached to No. 2 Police Station, Gloucester Road, and a party of Chinese plainclothes men, rounded up the "bad characters" in the district.

The raid was a successful one in that over twenty arrests were made, the "suspects" being hand-cuffed and taken to the Station where they were detained for enquiries.

CHINESE GAIN UPPER HAND

Though Japanese Use Gas

Kiangsi, August 20. The Chinese, continue to gain the upper hand on the south bank of the Yangtze River.

Military reports received here state that a Chinese column succeeded in smashing its way to the immediate outskirts of Kiukiang on Thursday and occupied Shankow, a point outside the city, for four hours. However, it later withdrew when the Japanese allegedly resorted to the use of poison gas to stem their advance.

The Chinese troops assisted by large guerrilla bands are now taking the initiative on the south Yangtze bank, constantly attacking the enemy. Chinese aircraft have been staging daily raids on Japanese troops and warship concentrations in the Kiukiang and Chihu sectors.

FARMERS RETURN

Indicative of Chinese confidence, farmers who formerly fled from the war zones have now returned and are busily reaping their harvest.

According to an account in a diary seized from a high Japanese officer, no fewer than 3,000 casualties have been suffered by the Japanese during engagements in the Nanchang-Kiukiang railway zone in the last few days. Japanese arms and equipment seized by the Chinese included 47 machine guns and sub-machine guns, 470 rifles, 50 gas masks, and a large number of steel helmets. (Central News).

JAPANESE CLAIM OCCUPATION OF SINGTZE

Shanghai, August 21. Singtze, a strategic point in the Poyang Lake area where the Japanese are now stated to be renewing their offensive on Chinese position on the south bank of the Yangtze, fell to Japanese forces early yesterday morning, states a Japanese communique.

Naval units entered Singtze through the western gate, while Japanese troops entered from the east, the occupation being completed by 7.30 a.m., according to the announcement.

The seizure of the town, according to Japanese claims, places Japanese troops in a commanding position to the south of Tushan Mountains on which Kuling is located. (Reuters).

OVER 30 JAPANESE VESSELS DAMAGED

Kiangsi, August 20. More than 30 Japanese warships, transports and steam launches in the Yangtze River have been damaged by Chinese land batteries during the past three weeks, according to information received from military sources.

Annoyed by the effective Chinese shelling, the Japanese have sent groups of bombers to raid the Chinese artillery positions on both banks of the Yangtze, whilst Japanese warships have been hurling tons of explosives. Hsianshan and Huangshan on the south bank were the main targets of the Japanese aerial and naval bombardment. On August 15 hundreds of bombs were dumped by over 50 Japanese planes.

Chinese losses as a result of the Japanese bombardment were slight. Only about 20 men were killed. (Central News).

NORTH ATLANTIC AIR TRANSPORT

Ocean Flying With Commercial Loads

Nineteen years ago a pioneer twin-engined biplane, carrying those two intrepid airmen Alcock and Brown, accomplished in just over 16 hours the first non-stop aeroplane flight across the North Atlantic. But that machine was so heavily-laden with fuel that it could carry no commercial load. It could not, in fact, carry the weight of a wireless apparatus; which meant that from the moment the airmen left the coast of Newfoundland, on their ocean crossing, they were out of touch with either land-stations or ships, and that nothing more was heard of them until they were in sight near the wireless station at Clifden, on the Irish coast.

And now contrast that pioneer flight of 1919 with one of the latest aerial crossings of the North Atlantic, as accomplished the other day by the fast-flying seaplane "Mercury", upper component of the Short-Mayo composite aircraft. After having been launched in mid-air at Foynes, on the Irish coast, from the wing of its mother-craft, "Maia," this seaplane "Mercury" shot out westward on an ocean crossing which was accomplished at a speed of just on 150 miles an hour in 13½ hours—establishing a new speed record for an east-to-west flight between Ireland and Newfoundland.

Having four separate motors, "Mercury" had such a reserve of engine-power that any risk of a forced descent, while on the ocean crossing, was virtually eliminated; rather different, that, from the predicament in which Hawker and Mackenzie-Grieve found themselves when they set out to attempt the first North Atlantic flight in a single-engined biplane. When they were half-way across the Atlantic, it may be remembered, mechanical trouble developed; and having nothing more than a single-engined power-plant on which they could rely, they were forced down into the ocean—being extremely lucky to be picked up by a passing steamer.

ANOTHER CONTRAST. Another contrast between Atlantic flying in the early days and modern Atlantic flying under commercial conditions is provided by the fact that whereas Hawker and Mackenzie-Grieve, when they got into difficulties had no wireless by which they could summon aid, the wireless equipment installed in the seaplane "Mercury" enabled the operator of this aircraft to keep in constant touch not only with land-stations in Ireland and Newfoundland, but also with ships at various points along the steamer route.

Actually this recent flight accomplished by "Mercury" established several important records. It was, as has already been mentioned, the fastest east-to-west crossing so far achieved. It was also the first long-distance flight by an aircraft launched in mid-air from another machine. And—last but by no means least—it was the first North Atlantic air crossing to be achieved by a heavier-than-air machine when carrying a definitely commercial load in addition to the weight of fuel and crew.

THREE STAGES. Three stages have—when one comes to examine the matter—characterised the aerial conquest of the North Atlantic. First there were the perilous blazing-the-trail flights. Then came a second stage in which, owing to a greater reliability of aircraft and to a greater skill in navigation, crossings were made with more certainty and with less risk of accident. Now, just recently, there has been a series of North Atlantic air crossings made under definitely commercial conditions, multi-engined aircraft achieving flights according to pre-arranged time-schedules and being in regular wireless touch with ships and shore-stations during their crossings. And today such commercial tests have reached the additional stage of non-stop North Atlantic air crossings carrying a commercial load in addition to the weight of fuel and crew.

As regards this last-mentioned point, the fact should be emphasized that, owing to the fuel necessary for a non-stop crossing, pioneer Atlantic-flying planes were unable to carry any additional weight except, perhaps, a few souvenir letters.

A NEW PHASE. "Mercury", however, initiating a new phase in North Atlantic air progress, was able to carry approximately half-a-ton of commercial load in addition to 1,000 lbs. of fuel and the weight of pilot and wireless operator. This commercial load took the form of films, photographs, and newspapers. Thus laden, the seaplane flew non-stop from the Irish coast to Montreal; and, after a brief halt to refuel at Montreal, the aircraft flew on to New York.

What this achievement meant was that special films showing the Royal visit to Paris put aboard "Mercury" one, even on the Irish coast, were by the next night being shown in cinemas at points as far-distant as Montreal and New York.

In addition to further North Atlantic tests to be made by "Mercury" this summer, two other ocean-flying craft will be making their first appearance on the Atlantic route. One will be the big Imperial flying-boat, "Cabot"—capable of carrying a larger load than did the flying-boats used in the tests last summer. Another will be a new type of fast-flying long-range monoplane air-liner, the "Albatross".

ESSENTIAL LINK

These further experiments on the North Atlantic will be followed, as soon as possible, by the establishment of a regular trans-ocean air-mail, thus providing an essential link between the existing Empire air services and the airway systems of Canada and the United States.

Now being brought considerably nearer is the realization of an ambition which has been in the minds of air transport pioneers since the days of the first post-war flying routes. This ambition is the operation of a commercial Imperial air service completely round the world. After flying westward across the North Atlantic, this round-the-world service will pass over Canada to the Pacific seaboard. Then will come another ocean air-link across the Pacific to Australia and New Zealand; and the globe-girdling system will be completed by a final section over the existing Empire route from Australia to Malaya, India, Egypt, and England. And such a great globe-girdling Imperial route, operating by night as well as day, will represent one of the greatest of all achievements in the annals of the air.

FORMER PIRATES HELP TO FIGHT THE JAPANESE

Attempts By Traitors To Stir Up Trouble

EVEN "UNDERWORLD" STANDS LOYAL

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT)

Canton, Aug. 20.

Efforts to encourage bandits and pirates to renew troubles in Kwangtung have failed, as these former ruffians are more patriotic than the traitors who try to induce them to loot again. It was learned today.

Bandits who were induced to renew trouble in Shup Man Mountain on the Kwangtung-Kwangsi border in the south have given up their activities. That place is now garrisoned by Kwangtung and Kwangsi troops and will soon be turned into an agricultural centre.

Some "foreign" agents have also tried to buy over the pirates in Bas Bay, who, however, prefer to remain inactive during the present national emergency. On the other hand, some of them took part in raiding San Cho Island, off Chungshan county, in which several Japanese blue-jackets were killed.

Other retired sea rovers joined Magistrate Hung Cheng-chih in driving out the Formosans and traitors from Namao Island last month. A good number of them have retired with the magistrate to the mountains and continue to hold out against the Japanese. Others are engaged in guerilla warfare all over the island.

According to intelligence reports, the Japanese navy want to hold Namao as a means to infest Kwangtung in the event of failure of gaining headway in the drive towards Hankow. Japanese newspapers have to continue announcing the capture of towns in China as a means to stimulate support for the war, for a continuous lull as prevailing at present is shaking Japanese morale at home.

In some quarters here, it is thought that the Changkufeng incident has killed the Japanese ambition to venture farther afield in South China but the authorities here are not taking any chances.

BIG FUNERAL AT SHANGHAI

Late Mr. Loh Lien-kwei

Shanghai, August 21.

One of the biggest funerals ever witnessed here took place this afternoon when the remains of the late Mr. Loh Lien-kwei, Superintendent of the Shanghai Municipal Police, who was brutally assassinated outside the Central Hotel last Thursday, were laid to rest.

High ranking officers, both of the Shanghai Municipal Police and the French Police attended, while the funeral procession was headed by eight Sikh troopers with the Shanghai Municipal Council banners.

It is estimated that 500,000 watched the procession from rooftops, windows and pavements. A large picture of the deceased was also carried, while five bands blared forth music.—(Reuters).

ANGLO-JAPANESE NEGOTIATIONS PROCEEDING

More Favourable Atmosphere

Shanghai, August 21.

Anglo-Japanese negotiations are proceeding in Tokyo under a more favourable atmosphere than before as Japan has realised that her war in China has seriously damaged British interests, according to a Havas report which quoted this view from the London correspondent of the Figaro.

Britain deplored Japanese action in China and did not deem it expedient to voice her disapproval too strongly, said this Paris report, but recently Britain found it hard to tolerate Japanese violation of British rights. Since the Changkufeng incident, Japan has modified her attitude towards the democratic countries, in the opinion of the London correspondent.

"Japan has found that there is little to gain by the anti-Communist pact with Germany and Italy," added the Figaro correspondent. "Hence Japan's policy towards Britain is more friendly. Anglo-Japanese negotiations are under way already in Tokyo."—(International).

20,000 IRREGULARS REVOLT

Hankow, Aug. 21.

Twenty thousand Japanese employed irregulars under the command of Hou Pao-hsiang have revolted in Hopen and turned over to the Chinese side, according to a Tientsin message.

The revolted form the largest single unit of irregulars to have surrendered to the Chinese side in the province so far. They are well-equipped and are scattered at Tientsin, Tangchow and Yen-shan, all important cities.—(Central News).

HOWARD HUGHES SETS ANOTHER AIR RECORD

Lowers Time On Trans-Continental Flight

Howard Hughes, the millionaire aviator who recently completed a record round-world flight, established a new trans-continental record for transport planes yesterday when he flew from Los Angeles to New York in 10 hours, 34 minutes and 50 seconds.

This time is better than the previous record by nearly half an hour. Hughes flew the same plane that he used on the world hop.—(Reuters).

Italy's Peace Overtures Are Denied

MALICIOUS FABRICATIONS

Chungking, August 21.

Foreign reports alleging that Italy has arrived at a tentative understanding with a prominent Chinese figure to negotiate peace with Japan were categorically denied by local official circles.

The reports were branded as malicious fabrications designed to allign the Chinese who are now presenting a united front against the aggressor.—(Central News).

PEACE OVERTURES GROUNDLESS

Interviewed by a representative of the Central News Agency yesterday, Mr. Lin Po-sheng, member of the Legislative Yuan, stated that foreign reports about Italy's alleged understanding with a prominent Chinese figure to negotiate peace with Japan were absolutely groundless.

Mr. Lin pointed out that since the outbreak of the Sino-Japanese hostilities the Chinese had been fully determined to wage a long-drawn-out war to win the final victory.

He recalled that both Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and Mr. Wang Ching-wei, respectively General Executive and Deputy General Executive of the Kuomintang, had once and again reminded the Chinese that compromise midway would only bring about the downfall of the nation.

China's resistance in the past year had reaped satisfactory results. It was obvious that the longer the war lasted, the stronger China would become and the nearer would be Japan's collapse.

Rumours of peace at this juncture, Mr. Lin opined, were apparently intentionally circulated by China's enemy both to blindfold the world and to allign the Chinese people.—(Central News).

FIGHTING RAGES ON HANGCHOW FRONT

Sinteng Chokang, August 21.

Fighting continues to rage around Fuyang and Yuhang, respectively southeast and west of Hangchow.

At Yuhang the Chinese have recaptured Lan-shan, Chin-shan, and Talan-shan, three hills in the suburban districts. The Japanese launched a counter-attack yesterday but were repulsed by the Chinese with about 50 officers and men killed, and wounded.

In the Fuyang sector 1,000 Japanese reinforcements have arrived. Fighting is going on at Sinkiao.—(Central News).

MORE TROUBLE BREAKS OUT IN PALESTINE

One Wounded When Party Of Soldiers Is Fired Upon

Jerusalem, August 21.

Further trouble of a serious nature broke out in Palestine on Saturday when a military patrol was fired at, one soldier being wounded.

In the clashes which occurred in the different parts of the country, three Jews are reported to have been killed.

PATRIOTIC MAGISTRATE WINS ENEMY'S ADMIRATION

Chengchow August 21.

How the patriotism and courage of Mr. Ma Shih-hung, magistrate of Pingyuan, Shantung, has won the admiration of even the Japanese and put the puppet government officials to shame is revealed by reports received here.

Mr. Ma was captured by the Japanese last month whilst leading his militia units to fight against them. After his capture, he tried to commit suicide by knocking his head on a stone pillar. One of his subordinates also tried to kill himself with a sword.

When he was arraigned before a bogus court, he sternly rebuked the puppet judges and officials, including more than ten "magistrates" who came to see the trial and harangued them on the importance of patriotism. Winding up his speech, he asked to be killed immediately.

The puppet judges and officials were ashamed, and failed to pronounce any verdict.

Admiring his patriotism and courage, the Japanese military authorities have instructed that he be properly treated during his detention.—(Central News).

Strengthening Canadian Defence

Woodbridge, Ont.,

August 21.

Canada's duty is to make herself so strong that no hostile power can strike the United States through the Dominion, declared the Premier, Mr. Mackenzie King, at a speech here yesterday.

President Roosevelt's assurance that the United States would not stand by idly if Canada is threatened does not mean any slackening of the Canadian defence programme, he added. It has increased rather than decreased the responsibility of Canadians to make the country safe from invasion.—(Reuters).

COOPER AND SNEAD TIE

Canadian Open Golf Title

Toronto, August 21.

Harry Cooper and Sam Snead today tied for first place in the Canadian Open Golf Championship. Cooper's rounds were 66, 71, 68, 72 and Snead 67, 69, 69, 72. They will play off for the title on Monday, over 18 holes.

Paul Runyan with scores of 67, 69, 69, 75, was third. Cooper broke the course record for the first 18 holes.

Phillip Farley, with an aggregate of 295, was the best amateur. Somerville, last year's amateur champion, with an aggregate of 304, was third best.—(Reuters).

S.M.C. RETURNS FLAG TO 'DOOMED BATTALION'

Hankow, August 20.

The Chinese flag which was taken down by Russian Volunteer Corps during the incident in the concentration camp of the "Doomed Battalion" on August 11 was returned to Colonel Hsieh Ching-yuan, commander of the battalion, by the Shanghai Municipal Council yesterday.

It is generally believed that this step, on the part of the S.M.C. was intended to alleviate Chinese resentment since the incident.—(Central News).

WORLD CONFERENCE

principles on which the I.P.C. has been based—respect for treaties; universal limitation of armaments; collective security and machinery to allow of the peaceful solution of all international problems; and that this departure has resulted in wars of aggression, the barbarity of which increases daily and which it would be in vain to attempt to humanise.

"The Conference is of opinion that the weakness and acquiescence of certain great States with regard to the aggressor States have made these States stronger, both in the eyes of international public opinion and of their own people; it feels that this criminal weakness has created the illusion that the real strength of the great democracies is unequal to that of the aggressor States.

FINANCIAL RESOURCES

"It notes that in reality the democracies possess everything needed to stop wars of aggression, since the totalitarian States have at their disposal only a minute part of the financial and economic resources (in particular raw materials, gold and petrol) necessary to the pursuit of their activities; it therefore demands that steps be taken to forbid trade which is contrary to the interests of peace.

"The Conference is of opinion that a more rational and equitable organization of economic life would diminish the causes of conflict and of war; it feels that this problem should be linked with that of collective security; it believes that these two problems cannot be dealt with satisfactorily without the co-operation of the United States; and it instructs the Bureau of the I.P.C. to place both of them on the Agenda of a Conference to be held in the near future.

"The Conference regrets that the shortcomings of the great States have dangerously weakened the authority of the League of Nations; it demands that the authority of the League be strengthened by a return to the law of the Covenant, the greatest expression of international morality.

The Conference sends its warmest congratulations to President Roosevelt and his Ministers for the courageous declarations they recently made; it welcomes this attitude on the part of the American Government and American Democracy as a great hope for peace; it addresses an earnest appeal to President Roosevelt to American Democracy and to all the democratic forces of the world.

"It hopes that their energetic preventive action will make impossible a world conflict which it would be easier to bring about than to stop; it calls on them to take the steps called for by the seriousness of the situation, promising them the unqualified support of the organizations adhering to the International Peace Campaign which group 400,000,000 human beings."—(Central News).

CONTENTS OF FRANCO'S REPLY NOT MADE KNOWN

"Conciliatory Terms"

London, August 21.

Although the contents of General Franco's reply to the British suggestions regarding the withdrawal of volunteers has not yet been officially made known, the papers unanimously state that it is couched in "cordial and conciliatory terms" which, however, do not exclude a number of reservations. Hence both the Observer and the Sunday Times conclude that a considerable time must elapse before effect can be given to the British plan.

Both papers stress that a great deal depends on the attitude of the Soviet Union and, in this connection, the Sunday Times relates that the Soviet Ambassador, M. Malysky, has already informed Lord Halifax that the Soviet Government is unable to make any further concessions.

FRANCO DECLINES TO ACCEPT
The paper also asserts that General Franco declines to accept the suggested procedure for the recognition of belligerent rights, according to which, those rights would only be recognised "when the withdrawal of volunteers has made noticeable progress."

The paper affirms that General Franco positively refuses to admit such a procedure and that controversies on this subject in the debates of the Non-Intervention Committee are likely to be prolonged and eventually result in a compromise proposal. In the paper's view the situation does not encourage optimism. It is confirmed that the Chairman of the Non-Intervention Committee, Lord Flymouth, will return to London on Monday and that before summoning a meeting of the Committee, will have conversations with representatives of the leading Powers concerned.—(Transocean).

Fresh Difficulties

London, August 21.

The Sunday Times' diplomatic correspondent understands that General Franco's answer to the British note regarding withdrawal of volunteers is not a direct refusal but is a complicated and tortuous analysis of the plan and contains proposals for certain fundamental alterations before the scheme can be accepted.

In particular, the Spanish Nationalist leader criticises the formula by which belligerent rights will only be conceded when withdrawals have made substantial progress.

The correspondent says that the Soviet Government is unlikely to accept a new compromise or any alterations to the plan.

It is understood that M. Malysky, the Soviet Ambassador in London, informed the Foreign Office three days ago that his Government would make no further concessions.

FRESH DIFFICULTIES
Hence, there is likely to be further delay in bringing the Anglo-Italian Agreement into operation. Fresh difficulties also face the Non-Intervention Committee.—(Reuters).

MADAME SUN IN CANTON

Canton, August 21.

Madame Sun Yat-sen, widow of the late Kuomintang founder, will broadcast here tonight in English on the present position of China as affected by the Sino-Japanese hostilities.

A member of the Kuomintang Central Executive Committee, Madame Sun arrived here yesterday by steamer from Hong Kong and was welcomed at the wharf by Mayor Tsang Yang-fu, Governor Wu Tachen, General Yu Han-mou, Pacification Commissioner, and others.—(International).

American Books Confiscated

Shanghai, Aug. 21.

Books written by American authors such as Edgar Snow, Carl Crow, Miss Agnes Smedley and others are being confiscated by the Japanese military authorities whenever they can lay hands on them.

The New York Times of July 19 and the Time magazine of July 18 were also seized by the Japanese military authorities.

As most of the books and magazines were consigned to an American-owned store, named China-American Book Company in Nanjing Road, the American Consulate General here has filed a protest against the unwarranted seizure of American books and periodicals.—(International).

ENGLAND 347 FOR 1 IN THE FINAL TEST

Record Second Wicket Stand By Yorkshire Pair

AUSTRALIA LOSE MCCORMICK, DOWN WITH NEURITIS

A brilliant display of determined batting by two Yorkshiremen, one a seasoned veteran, the other at the beginning of a career that is full of the highest promise, featured the first day's play in the final test match between England and Australia at the Oval.

Maurice Leyland joined Leslie Hutton at the fall of the first wicket for 29 runs (Edrich again failed) and the two stayed together to add 318 runs for the second wicket, an English Test record. Hutton gave a faultless display in scoring his 160, his innings comparing favourably with his century in his Test debut on June 10.

EDRICH OUT
O'Reilly's first delivery was a no-ball and his fourth, a long hop, was pulled to the leg boundary by Hutton. Edrich then took three off Fleetwood-Smith past mid-off, but in the next over the Middlesex player stepped in front of O'Reilly's top spinner, 29-1-12.

Edrich, who has aggregated only 67 runs in six Test innings this year, provided O'Reilly with his 100th Test wicket against England. O'Reilly is the first player to take 20 or more wickets in an England v. Australia series four times in a row. Previous to today he had taken 19 England wickets at a cost of 22.73 runs apiece in the present Test series.

Maurice Leyland came out to join Hutton, and both batsmen found it difficult to place a well placed field. Forty went up after 60 minutes, but both batsmen had to be patient when facing O'Reilly, whose variation of pace and exceedingly clever fighting of the ball demanded the keenest concentration. Fleetwood-Smith also required close watching.

Hutton, who was playing faultless cricket and who appeared very confident, hit an overpitched ball from O'Reilly to the off boundary to send up the 50 after 76 minutes. Leyland, on the other hand, was half an hour running into double figures and then was nearly run out by a smart return from Bradman to the bowler. He had attempted a very risky run and only beat the fielder's return by a split second.

O'REILLY'S FIRST SPELL
When O'Reilly was relieved his figures were:
O. R. W.
9 19 1

With the total at 64, after 90 minutes, Leyland was again almost run-out, this time as the result of Badcock throwing down the wicket with a brilliant return from mid-on.

Almost immediately afterwards Fleetwood-Smith unsuccessfully appealed for leg-before-wicket against Leyland, who celebrated the occasion by getting him away twice in succession to the on boundary in the same over. The bowler nearly had his revenge, however, when the left-hander luckily edged a ball very close to his leg stump.

The lunch interval arrived with the pair still together, the score then being 89 for 1, Hutton 39 and Leyland 35.

BARNETT'S COSTLY SLIP
There was a crowd of 25,000 present when play was resumed with O'Reilly and Fleetwood-Smith opening the attack.
Hutton should have been stumped off Fleetwood-Smith's second ball. He was a yard outside his crease, but Barnett fumbled badly.

Leyland hit a ball from Fleetwood-Smith to the off boundary to send up the 100 after 177 minutes and, continuing his magnificent driving, he scored another boundary in the same over to reach his 50 after 93 minutes at the crease. In the next over Hutton late cut McCabe to reach his 50 after 145 minutes. The partnership had then added 101 runs in 165 minutes.

A crowd of 30,000 saw Australia's limited attack fail to make any impression on the two Yorkshiremen, but the fine length maintained throughout, supported by really great fielding, confined the scoring to singles periodically. The 150 was hoisted after 175 minutes.

HUTTON'S CENTURY
Hutton, who played grand cricket, scoring all round the wicket, reached his second Test century—he scored his first in his debut against Australia on June 10—after 125 minutes, having hit 11 boundaries.

WOOD'S TAXI RIDE
Wood, the Yorkshire stumper who will be 40 next Thursday, arrived in London at 1.30 a.m. after a taxi ride from Nottingham!

McCormick's absence, due to neuritis in the shoulder, caused a sensation but it is considered that Wright's misfortune—he injured the first finger of his bowling hand on Friday—has evened up the comparative bowling strength.

There were only 20,000 present when Walter Hammond won the toss and elected to bat.
The wicket appeared to be an easy one, the ball coming through very slowly when Waite opened from the pavilion, end to Edrich.

Both Waite and McCabe, who opened at the gasometer end, were very accurate and kept Edrich and Hutton

REFUGEE CAMPS

Sealed tenders are being called by the Public Works Department for the construction of the Refugee Camp to be erected at North Point.
Tenders will close on September 6, and call for the erection of temporary wooden huts for sleeping, dining, kitchens, latrines and quarters.

Similar tenders, which close on August 29, are being called for the erection of Refugee Camps in Kowloon.

Despite the raids of the Japanese on the coasts of South China the production has fallen off but slightly. Production is to be intensified during the next months so as to satisfy the needs of the inland provinces by another 3 million piculs. Arrangements are already under way for the transportation of salt into the interior.

The "Good Roads Movement"
In Shanghai Has Good Results

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT)

Chungking (By Airmail).

The "Good Roads Movement," started by some Chinese leaders in Shanghai several years ago, is today bringing the returns desired.
Apart from its economic value in the form of quicker transportation of passengers and freight, west China is taking advantage of the modern public highways to promote mass, social education and service by carrying schools, libraries, theatres, and ambulances direct from the city to the rural districts, all packed in one two-ton truck fitted as a hostel for the staff in the evenings in places where more suitable accommodation is not available.

The Chinese Young Men's Christian Associations of Chungking and Chengtu, assisted by hospitals and church missions, are now having two extension teaching cars along the Chengtu-Chungking Public Highway, one moving west and the other eastward, meeting at Neikiang, a town noted for sugar and pretty girls.

STOPS AT VILLAGES

They have each a fortnightly round trip, stopping at important villages en route to lecture to the people, besides providing reading matter, healing the sick, and entertaining the men, women, and children.

Educators, doctors, nurses, mechanics, and other useful persons are invited to join the staff when going out on a trip.

According to figures submitted by the chief of staff on one of the trips, one can easily appreciate the service now being rendered to the rural communities by Christian leaders of the country.

On its 5th trip just completed the other day, the Chungking Y.M.C.A. mission spent 14 days on the way, stopped over at 12 villages, treated 923 out-patients, lent books to 169 people, received 4,479 visitors to its exhibitions, lectured to 4,290 and admitted 39,600 to the movie and 38,500 to the stereopticon shows, thus serving in one way or another some 88,061 persons during the fortnight.

THE WEEK IN MACAO

(From our own Correspondent)

Macao, August 21.

Following upon re-construction work at the 190-year-old San Rafael Hospital, all patients and equipment are being installed in the Union Sports Club which has been converted to meet temporary requirements; the premises having been kindly loaned by the Club committee.

Founded by Bishop Belchior in 1747, the San Rafael Hospital was established for the purpose of affording medical relief to the poor and has always been financially supported by the Santa Casa do Misericordia.

Recent statistics show that annually some 10,000 in-patients and 18,000 out-patients attend the hospital for treatment. Out of these figures, only 30 per cent pay anything.

Victim

Death claimed another victim
last week when Chong Bing-siong 17, succumbed to his wounds which he received during the assassination of his uncle Chong Kin-heng, proprietor of the Kwong
Chau Hotel, in Rua Novo do Comercio by an unknown gunman ten days ago.

The young man had courageously tackled his relative's assassin when he was shot, and the killer made good his escape.
